"A Place for Everything—

and everything in its place" is a high ideal. However, most of us fall short of it when it is applied to writing materials.

Birk's writing cases have a commodious "place for everything" and they are so convenient that it becomes an easy matter indeed to keep "everything in its place."

The practical and attractive attached writing case is now very much in vogue

FORMER MCGILL PROF. DIES AT CORNELL UNIV.

Prof. A. M. Gray Had Been Ill For Some Time.

DISTINGUISHED GRAD.

Winner of Whitworth Scholarship at Edinburgh.

Alexander M. Gray, Director of the Department of Electrical Engineering at Cornell University, died on Thursday morning, Oct. 13th, after a prolonged illness.

The late Prof. Gray was a graduate of McGill University, and a former member of the staff of the Dept. of Electrical Engineering.

Gray won a Whitworth Scholarship in Edinburgh, and came to this country to complete his studies, entering the third year in Electrical Engineering in 1904. After graduation in 1906, he was for some years employed in the designing department of the Allis Chambers Bullock Co. at Milwaukee. During these years he collected the material which later he published in his book, "Electrical Machine Design," which is used as a text book in design in the majority of the colleges and universities of Canada and the United States.

Gray joined the staff of the Dept. of Electrical Engineering of McGill in 1910, as assistant professor, and proved to be one of the best and most popular teachers McGill has ever had. He has a very warm place in the affections of those who were privileged to attend his lectures.

Gray's second book, Principles and Practice of Electrical Engineering, was written as a text-book for non-electrical students, and was immediately adopted by a large proportion of the American colleges. His work in design and in the general field of electrical engineering, was of such an astounding quality that he was chosen to write the section on Direct Current Machinery for the last edition of the Standard Handbook for Electrical Engineers.

In 1915 Gray accepted the position of Director of the Department of Electrical Engineering at Cornell University, and left McGill, much to the regret of both the staff and the student body.

While at Cornell he became active in the work of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, and was appointed chairman of one of its principal committees.

His poor health seriously interfered with his work during the last few years, but he fought against his weakness with the greatest courage.

The end came on the morning of Thursday, Oct. 13th, the day of the class reunions, and no one was missed from the ranks of 1906 more than Gray.

A letter was read from him at the dinner regretting his inability to be present and expressing his love for Old McGill.

MANDOLIN CLUB'S THIRD PRACTICE

To-night, at Peate's Studio, St. Catherine St.

The Mandolin Club will continue on its way to a successful year at the third practice to be held at Peate's Studio at 7:15 if the last two rehearsals are a fair criterion of the work to be accomplished by this ever-popular organization. Attendance has been satisfactory, and a great deal of enthusiasm manifested by all those present. Mr. Peate is taking all his former interest in the Club, which is a lot to say the very least. Prof. Reilly is expected to be on hand to-night, with his old-time pep, and should add a great deal to the spirit of the Club. The idea of having two pianists so that every chance of being left stranded without one seems to be a good idea, and should work out greatly to the benefit of the organization.

It is hoped to shortly gather material for a short history of the Mandolin Club, which will appear soon in the "Daily."

In the meantime all out to-night, and don't forget your music to-night.

TRACK TEAM FOR FRIDAY MEET PICKED

Journey to Kingston Thursday 10:00 A.M.

17 MEN ENTERED.

All Track Men to Continue to Turn Out Whether on List or Not.

The men who should represent McGill at the Intercollegiate Track Meet have been chosen. The list is by no means final, and track practice is still going on for both the group chosen, and men who have been turning out. It is important that men keep on turning out regularly, whether included in the present list or not, as they may be needed at any time. Training hours are the same as before—3:30 to 5:30.

It is especially important that all men listed turn out every day, as the time to the Intercollegiates is not far away. The team is expected to leave on Thursday morning at 10:00 o'clock, for the stronghold of the tri-color squad.

All men below have been entered in the Intercollegiates, and are requested to turn out for training table at the Union at 6 p.m. daily:—
100 yards—Hay, Johnson, Lane.
220 yards—Hay, Johnson, Lane.
440 yards—Hay, Johnson, Lane.
880 yards—Hamilton, Legg, Gammell.
1 mile—Hamilton, Legg, Wiggins.
3 mile—Wiggins, Creelman, Simpson.
Hurdles—Consiglio, Kennedy.
Shot Put—Foss, MacLellan, Kennedy.
Hammer—MacLellan, Foss, Kennedy.
Discus—Foss, Gaboury, McNider.
High Jump—Foss, Kennedy, Lowery.
Broad Jump—Kennedy, Consiglio, Gaboury.
Pole Vault—Gaboury, Craik.
Relay—Hay, Johnson, Hamilton, Legg, McNider, Gammell.

B.W. AND F. IS PLANNING GOOD SEASON

Boxers in Molson Hall, Wrestlers in Union.

SEVERAL TRIPS.

Plans for Inter-Class and Inter-Faculty Boxing

The first meeting of the B. W. & F., executive was held yesterday with President Dave McKeen in the chair. The meeting was enthusiastic over prospects for the coming year. Practically all of last year's team are back ready for the long grind to the Intercollegiates. This year there are almost certain to be other meets beside the one big three cornered const. The Boxers have the prospect of a trip to the States and plans are being made for a similar trip for the Wrestlers.

Freshmen and men in other years who have not yet been out are urged to turn out with either Boxers or Wrestlers for the season. Besides the prospect of being able to do something for the college which is the ambition of a man worthy to represent McGill, the man who may not develop sufficiently in a year to catch a place on the team may improve his physique and learn methods of self defence which are useful in life after University contests are left in the background. Then there is the ever present bogey-Gym attendance for the first and second years.

This year the method of conducting classes and places of practice will be slightly different.

The Boxers will hold forth in Molson hall under their able coach Ernie Robinson. Every Tuesday and Thursday they are expected to don the gloves at the former haunt of the examination spectre and demonstrate their ability to cope with shadows of a different sort. The advanced classes will receive instruction from 6:00 to 7:00 P. M., on these days and the elementary will be held from 5:00 to 6:00 P. M. This afternoon, however all Boxers whether, advanced or in the primary stage are asked to meet in Molson Hall at 5:15, when each Robinson will be in charge.

The wrestlers are to occupy the basement of the Union this year. Under the management of Coach George Smith they have bright prospects of developing a championship team. "George" is well known to the wrestlers of last year and to all the fans. The days allotted to the devotees of the mat are Monday and Wednesday and as in the case of the Boxers, the elementary class will be held at 5:00 P. M. While the more advanced will improve their style at 6:00 P. M.

The fencers will be later in starting as they are trying to secure more suitable quarters than last year's. The followers of the foil may expect definite word of the season's programme within a week.

The vice-President Brewer who won his bout in the assault at-arms last year is developing an Inter-class and Inter-faculty competition among the Boxers and the best men will be matched in a series of smokers this coming fall. Any men wishing information should get in touch with the President, Vice-President or Secretary-treasurer and Manager—Currie.

The Intercollegiate Assault at-Arms, this year is expected to take place on Friday and Saturday, February 17 and 18 at Toronto.

MARITIME CLUB TO REORGANIZE

Meeting in Strathcona Hall To Elect Officers.

This evening Tuesday Oct 18th at 5:30 in Strathcona Hall the Maritime Club of McGill will hold their initial meeting. As this is the first meeting of the year it is hoped that every student who claims allegiance to the provinces by the sea will make an effort to be present as election of officers will take place and other important business be dealt with. All newcomers to McGill who hail from the East are urgently requested to the present. This is an organization for you and one with which you ought to identify yourselves. Here is a place where you may meet old friends and form new acquaintances. Graduates! If it is at all possible we want you to continue with us. Your counsel your fellowship is earnestly solicited. R. V. C. girls and others connected with McGill are cordially invited and permission has been granted for their attendance. Everyone then be on hand and let us get away to a good start. ## INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY.

A short time ago, at a well-known university, the following question was asked in a kind of general knowledge paper: On what does the success of university life depend? Of course the answers given to this query were many and varied, but not a few among the candidates in the examination had sufficient insight into student affairs to answer correctly. And their answer was: that the success of university life depends not on the electing of good officers nor the efficient work of these officers, but instead on the conscientious co-operative effort of every last student.

Now what lesson are we to draw from this, for it applies to us as well as to every other university? When we think the matter over seriously for the first time and really begin to perceive its great significance most of us receive an entirely new and novel impression, to wit, that the success of our university life as a whole rests as much with every one of us as with any one else. After we have taken this in and digested it we are very apt to wonder how it has been possible for us to exist so far without fully comprehending the truth of this almost axiomatic proposition. But such is the nature of we mortals that the easiest way out of anything difficult or boring is almost always the most acceptable, and is usually the passing over of the difficult task to any other or others we can find to do it.

This sentiment is not a worthy one even though it may quite conceivably work out in many cases and particularly is it unworthy in college students of intellect and purpose of will who should be able to see their duty and fulfil it.

The student life of a university is a complexity of multifarious activities which in turn may be divided into individual component parts, in this case these parts being the individuals taking part in the said activities. The societies of a modern university are so many and of such various kinds and interests that it is practically impossible, and at McGill quite so, that a student should not belong to one or another of them, even if his only connection be his faculty undergraduate organization. Thus the whole resolves itself into a great living organism, and as such depends for its proper and most useful existence on the working together of all its members, just as the human body requires the harmonious operation of all its various members and organs for its perfect action.

There is an old maxim familiar to all, which says "United we stand; divided we fall." Now this is not quite applicable in the extreme literal sense of the statement to the instance under discussion. But a slight modification of it covers the ground perfectly well. "With the co-operation of everyone we succeed; without it we cannot put forth our best efforts" seems to fit the case. It is true, that even if some hang back and do not do their fair share of the work that others will probably do some of it for them, that everything will not fall through because some do not take active parts. But it is also true that without the fullest individual help we cannot achieve the most wished-for heights of success. And in order to secure that aid it is necessary that each one of us take to heart a full measure of our individual responsibility. Let us think it over.

SETTLING DOWN.

Freshmen are always easily enthused with the idea that their choice of college or university is the best on earth. And at McGill this year especially this general rule should be particularly applicable. For here we are in the third week of the first term, and as yet there has been little class work done, owing, of course, to the usual confusion prevalent at the beginning of a new college year and the upsetting influence of the festivities just past. But we wish to bring before the minds of all the students, and the first year men in particular, that it will not always continue to be so, that hard work lies ahead waiting for us to tackle it. Some wiser heads have already seen this, and are prepared for the future, very near future, tasks. But it would be almost a certain wager that the great majority during the holidays just past did little towards getting themselves ready for the coming battle, either in the looking over of work already accomplished or of anticipating the progress of the class. This in itself is not a bad sign, being in the very nature of college students, but it will serve to show those whom it fits where the danger lies for them.

That McGill is a great university all will readily agree. And when the question as to the reason of her greatness is put all answering voices should be in perfect concord one with another. For while she is far renowned as a breeder of sportsmen of the first water, yet this is but a passing fame which fades with the progress of time. Her real crown of glory consists of the many spirits of genius she has turned out from her halls of learning, men who have contributed no small amount to the sum-total of human knowledge, men who have been world's leaders in every part of the globe. They have set a high, a very high, standard, and if we wish to live up to it, if we wish to follow in their footsteps, we must apply ourselves with untiring zeal to our studies. And after all, was it not for this purpose that we came to college?

The Centennial celebration has been completed. Re-union Week is over. Let us draw a good, long breath and settle down to work.

THE STUDENTS' FINANCES.

The statement of the finances of the Students' Society, which is published to-day, shows a deficit on the activities for the season. Whereas it might seem to be surprising that this is the case considering the large crowds which paid to see the football contests last fall, a careful perusal of the general statement, and those of the individual clubs which are to follow, will plainly show why the college clubs were unable to pay for themselves.

The Percival Molson Memorial Stadium is, as yet, unpaid for, and a very large portion of all the gate receipts has to be set aside for the debt. The money needed for the interest on the debt is deducted from the gate receipts, and then the funds needed for the upkeep of the grounds, and a portion to form a fund to eliminate the debt is taken off. All of these amounts are set aside by the Stadium Committee before the money reaches the students' hands, and, as a result, but little is left for them to carry on the undergraduate activities.

The personal interest of every student in the affairs of the undergraduate body would do much towards helping the Council throughout the season. The annual meeting of the Students' Society which takes place in the Union to-morrow afternoon, will give every man in the college an insight into the machinery of the college activities, and the statement is given to-day to allow all to go to the meeting with some knowledge so that they may listen more intelligently to the reports submitted.

DESCENDANT OF PEPYS AT MCGILL

Reporter Made Discovery in Rooming-House.

A "Daily" reporter made a very curious discovery a few days ago. The scarcity of single rooms at reasonable prices in the various boarding-houses near the University forced him to share a double room with an uncouth-looking individual, who stated that he had recently arrived in Canada to register as a student in the Faculty of Arts. Further enquiries elicited the startling information that he was no less a person than the direct descendant of the immortal diarist, Samuel Pepys; pronounced, it appears, with the first vowel short.

Young Mr. Samuel Pepys is apparently very careless of his personal belongings as the reporter was able to secure a furtive copy of some of the most recent entries in his diary, which is written in the language of his well-known ancestor. The following is a portion of the entry for Saturday the fifteenth instant:—

"Such a to-do this day about the colleges as I never did see. All the morning my new comrades a-pacing about the streets with gay-coloured ribbons in a kind of red and white silk; pleasing enough to behold. Vastly troubled I was at the first when a great lad swooped down upon me to bid me don a queer round cap in the selfsame colours.

I consider in all humility that I did show most commendable governing of myself in that I did resolve to humour the fellow, feeling that I had kept too much as one apart from the rest. So I went over with him to the others, and shortly set off a great throng of us with much beating of kettle-drums and blaring of the trumpet towards the big hill set over against the town.

There such a gathering of many people as fair made me gasp for breath. Then a little while and after much shouting in unison certain men came out on a flat field in front of us to engage in a game, or rather a sort of a battle, whereat the tumult was redoubled, and I found even myself shouting with as good a will as any man.

I cannot in good faith set down the divers happenings in their due succession. The contest soon ended, and then some right merry fellows bore me off with them to a tavern, and there forced upon me a queer sort of yellow wine very like to some of the sack I have drunken in London, only much to more strong. They did say it came out of Scotland, though this I can scarcely think in that the climate of the northern part of our island is most inclement and unsuited to the cultivation of the vine.

Very merry withal, and did shortly walk about the streets with these new comrades of mine, where the watch, I thought me, seemed to look upon me askance, yet I am sure I did comport myself with all dignity of demeanour.

And so to bed thinking of my new friends in the colleges, and their strange ways, and also of the yellow wine out of Scotland."

STUDENT RELIABILITY.

"We can not depend upon college students," a downtown business man told us the other day. "We have to train them for six months before they learn that they must do what they say they will do when they say they will do it."

We took the opposite side, of course but after thinking it over, decided with Roger that "There is much to be said on both sides."

Undoubtedly four years of life at the average university, four years of cutting classes, failing to keep appointments and of only half doing assigned work does unfit a man for the prompt and accurate work required in the business world. The student who takes advantage of his opportunities to do lax work in college has much to unlearn when he comes to the end of his four year's course.

Imagine what would happen to the individual outside of college who appeared on the job late on the average of twice a week during the year.

His job would not last a year.

Or imagine what would happen to the same individual if he promised to do a piece of work on Monday and came around the following Saturday with the apology that he hadn't time to finish it.

Yet university students are guilty of these same offenses dozens of times a week. Cutting classes started the first day. Failing to keep appointments with instructors on time, or not coming at all is so common that the instructors count on a student being late, and are themselves the offenders when the student shows up on time. Late work in all classes is so common that dire penalties have to be devised to get in on time.

These conditions are perhaps not universal. It is the truth that hurts, however, and the charges of the downtown business man hit close enough to be painful.

FIRST GLEE CLUB MEETING FRIDAY

All Singers Invited Friday, at 5 P.M.

Considerable interest has been shown in the reorganization of the Glee Club, whose first meeting takes place next Friday. Several years ago this club was a considerable power in Montreal's musical life. Last spring several letters were published in the Daily inquiring about the possibility of another such club. McGill very recently produced a very creditable chorus of mixed voices which, though its main purpose was defeated, showed last Sunday that the old College still has music in its soul. Montreal has "gone nuts" over community singing. The new song book now a reality, is all "booted and spurred" and ready to ride, only awaiting the necessary effort to give it tongue.

All of which goes to show that there is a very real justification for the coming glee club.

Three or four years ago a similar club came into being flickered, and went out without much fuss, not for want of interest or of enthusiasm. But for other reasons, all of which will be absent in the new organization.

And so, all you men who turned out so faithfully with the choir, don't let your efforts be wasted. All you remaining members of the old glee club, come and lend your experience. You who cannot sing songs, come and learn. Freshmen, this your opportunity to work into college activities and meet your fellows outside of class. The Student's Council is wholeheartedly behind the club, and will have a representative at the opening meeting, which as stated above, will take place at the Union on Friday next, October 21st, at 5.00.

EMBRYO DOCTORS HAVE NEW SOCIETY

Organization Meeting of the Physiological Society To-Night.

This evening at 8 p.m., in the Old Med., the inaugural meeting of the newly formed Physiological Society will be held.

For some time past the students of the Medical Faculty have had under consideration the formation of such a society. In April of this year the Department of Physiology announced that they had purchased a library of several hundred books of reference, dealing especially with the history of Physiology. This library they proposed to lend to the newly formed society, to be available to its members, and to serve as a nucleus for a larger library to be created in the course of time by the society. Then, too, it is proposed to take full advantage of the research work going on in the Department, and to give members the opportunity of having first hand the results of this work from the workers themselves.

A committee was appointed to draw up a constitution. This they have done, and all that remains for tonight's meeting to do is to adopt the constitution and elect officers.

Professor Tait has kindly consented to address the Meeting, taking as his subject "The Book in the New Library". Prof. Tait's talk should be of a great interest to all medical students, and all are cordially invited to attend. Tonight at 8 P.M., in the Old Medical Building.

NAVAL ACADEMY WON

The Naval Academy's eleven sprang to the forefront of the football teams of the East by outplaying Princeton and winning, 13 to 0.

The Navy developed a fast and varied attack, using seven men in the back field during the course of the game and holding several good men in reserve. In the matter of the passing game, the Navy was somewhat better than Princeton, but not notably so. It was its hard direct plays off tackle and its varied and well worked out assault upon Princeton's line which won the game.

A "Do it on time" movement started now and continued until June 15, 1922, would do much for giving university students the kind of training that will help them when college days are over. Make that appointment on time. Get to class before the bell rings. Make tardiness and irresponsibility a stigma, rather than the mark of the fashionably "busy" person.

MEDICAL HAVES GOOD WORKOUT

First Practice on Campus Yesterday.

The first practice of the Medical Interfaculty rugby football team was held on the Old Campus yesterday. If members and enthusiasm constitute any kind of forecast then the "Quacks" promise to be among the big contenders in this season's race.

Coach Lijshin put the squad through a snappy signal practice and is satisfied that he has a team which, with some real earnest work, should be able to uphold the standard of Medicine to the undoing of all others.

Managers Katzman and Shelley have made arrangements for practice for each afternoon of this week on the Old Campus in anticipation of the big game with Science on Friday afternoon. This promises to be a battle royal between the old rivals and indications are that the rosters of the respective faculties will be there in full force.

Among others who turned yesterday and are requested to do so again were:

Chisholm.
Taylor.
Roche.
Sloan.
McBryde.
P. Pfeffer.
Whiteside.

YALE BEST WILLIAMS

For the first time this season, Yale's football citadel was threatened by an invading foe. The doughty eleven from little Williams on three occasions manipulated the forward pass so cleverly as to reach the 15-yard line, but Yale, fighting in its last ditch, rallied and on all three occasions captured the ball on a fourth down on an intercepted pass. Quarterback Mallon of the visitors exhibited almost uncanny accuracy in placing his forward passes out of the reach of the Yale defense, yet Yale won 23-0.

Yale's scoring machine ground out its touchdowns with relentless regularity, making three of them, while a field goal by Captain Aldrich netted another score, rounding out the total of 23. Captain Aldrich and Charlie O'Hearn, who entered the play for the first time this season, were in rare all-around form, while Jordan's line running game was the most effective feature of the Yale attack.

McGILL WINS RUGGER GAME AT M.A.A.A.

Large Crowd Turns Out For Game.

SCORE 503.

A Few Changes in McGill Team.

Yesterday afternoon at the M. A. A. A. grounds, St. Catherine street West, the McGill English rugby team played a return match with the Montreal English. Each team scored one try but the McGill men were able to convert, the resulting score being 5-3. The McGill team showed an improvement in form over their victory to their place kicking.

McGill won the kick-off and from the start pressed Montreal hard. Play moved from one 25 yard line to the other, with many scrimmages at centre field. Half way through this period Marpole intercepted a pass and made McGill only try. Manson converted from a difficult angle. Score 5-0. Montreal forced the for the rest of the period and Phillips gathering in a loose ball on McGill five yard line scored for the English. Cotvil failed to convert. Score 5-3 for McGill.

After half time both teams worked hard and the play was all over the field. Toward the end of the game McGill's touch-line was in danger several times but was saved by several good punts by the pull back and threequarters and a pretty run by McLean. There were a few more injuries received during this half out none of the players were forced to leave the game. After some good and bad play on both sides the game ended with no further score for either side.

The line up follows:

Gooch. Full back. Lane. Three Quarters. Munro. Ainy. Phillips. McNeal. Bearnley. Halves. Colvil. Warmstaff. Brown. Hyde (Capt). Budden. Fallowfield. McLean. Buchanan. Mitchell. Congleton. Day. Rouan. Wittmore. Brown. Rankin. Seaman. Kenna.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week a practice will be held on the Old Campus at 4 o'clock. All members of the first and second squads are expected out, as the first team plays Varsity and the second come up against the seconds of the Montreal English Club on Saturday of this week, at the workout to-day a captain will be elected for the games on Saturday. Followers of the game will be sorry to hear that "Dutch" Helmcken has been forced to resign the captaincy of the first team on account of injuries received in the game with the men of the H. M. S. Westeria, which will keep out of the game for the rest of the year. On account of this a captain will also be elected for the firsts at to-days practice.

HARRIERS WORK-OUT WAS GOOD

Interfaculty Meet To-morrow Afternoon.

FORMS AT UNION.

Entries Received for C. P. R. Race—Freshmen Promising.

Last evening the most successful run of the season was held from the stadium when several new runners turned out for the first time and set some of the older men a good pace to keep up with. The party started out in a body to cover a three and a half mile route while part of the group followed a more extended course.

Last night's distance run was the last before the preliminary inter-faculty harrier meet which takes place from the stadium on Wednesday. This race is open to all students and will be over a four mile course. The event will commence from the stadium sharp at 4 p.m. It is expected that much keen competition will be shown since several of the new men are "dark horses" as yet but have proved their ability as marathoners. Entry forms are to be found in the Lobby of the Union and also at the stadium.

Another harrier event will be staged on next Saturday at 3:15 when the C.P.R. A.A.A., who have organized a road race for the Quebec Championship. Yesterday two entries were handed in from McGill men and the prospects of other red and white representatives competing in this eight and a half mile meet are very good. Applications may be obtained from the manager, Stan, Read, who will be at the stadium at four p.m. or from the secretary.

First and second year men are reminded that by attending the practices of the club they are credited with their gym attendance, besides getting all the advantages of the out-of-door exercise.

Saturday's run will be over an 8 1/2 mile course starting from the corner of Papineau Avenue & Mount Royal, along Mount Royal Avenue to St. Catherine Road. Following St. Catherine Road the runners go to Lumkin's Hotel at the back of the Mountain. The return trip is over practically the same ground and finishes at the commencing point. The absence or running over hill roads, to a large extent, will prove much easier to McGill men who are more or less accustomed to Mount Royal.

ECONOMICS CLUB STARTING WORK

Interesting Paper Prepared for Thursday Night.

The Economics Club will get under way for the coming session on Thursday night, October 20, at 8.15, in the smoking room of the Arts Building. F. O. Peterson, of Arts '22, will deliver a paper on "The Economics of the Stock Exchange," on which subject he is well qualified to write, and which should be of exceptional interest in these times of wondering when the market is finally going up after its long leadership by the bears.

It is expected that all the professors and lecturers in Economics who are connected with this organization will be present, and it is understood that Mr. Viner, of Chicago University, who is replacing Dr. Stephen Leacock during his absence in England, will give a short address.

After the speeches a short business meeting will be held to decide matters of policy and a programme of subjects to be discussed throughout the year. A list of dates has been drawn up by the executive, and will be submitted to the meeting for their approval. The question of fees will also be decided.

It is desired that a goodly number of members turn out to support this popular organization and start the season auspiciously.

SOPH. AWAITING FROSH. BANQUET

"When do we eat." This is the great cry of the Sophomores. And it should rightly be so. The time is rapidly approaching when the Freshmen of the different faculties are expected to give their senior faculty mates a dinner. This Sophomore-Freshmen banquet is one of the oldest and most traditional functions in the University, and the Sophomores are anxiously awaiting some signs from the Freshmen in regard to the time and the place where the festivities will be held. Now that the Centennial is over there is plenty of time for the banqueters to arrange all the details, and it is hoped that they will come across with the invitations to the Sophs in the very near future.

The banquet is compulsory for each freshman year, and around the "eats" the freshmen and sophomores become acquainted, and the fine spirit for which McGill is noted becomes prevalent. After this banquet all the rushes of the year are over, and the freshmen and the sophs are then joined together in the bonds of university friendship that has such a great and lasting influence in the lives of all students in McGill.

"If a ship is twenty feet wide and forty feet long, how old is the captain? If Christmas comes in July, put a cross in the third circle from the end. If Oshkosh is the capital of Tennessee, how long will it take a train to run from Shantung to Delhi? If Mary has thirty cents and buys a pencil, two gum-balls and a pair of jacks, what will be left (besides Mary)?"

In the women's and men's gymnasiums on Saturday morning, in the University of Iowa sat about 1500 freshmen, with dilated eyes and pale faces, gasping for breath. Sheet after sheet of questions, of which the above are examples, were put before them.

"Do you reduce to the same denominator in adding fractions or is it only in dividing them, or don't you do it when you divide? Was it Cleopatra or Joan of Arc who pawned her jewels so that Columbus could discover America? Did Longfellow or O' Henry write 'The Vampire'?"

These and many other questions were heard-spoken, whispered, muttered—questions to the right of them, questions to the left of them, questions in front of

UNION BREAKFASTS WELL PATRONIZED

Business at Cafeteria Shows Large Increase

Breakfast at the Union cafeteria is becoming more popular as the session progresses. The majority of the students are accustomed to getting up late in the morning and they find it very convenient to run into the Union and get a breakfast in time to be at lectures before the roll is called.

The facilities for securing meals at the students' meeting place have caused an immense increase in the popularity of the Union. For the noon and night meals the cafeteria has always been very popular and long lines of students are generally seen awaiting their turn while the attendants rapidly dish out their portions.

The increase in the popularity of the breakfast meal has served its purpose in helping the staff to keep busy all day and at the same time is of financial benefit to the Student's Council. It has always been the plan of the house committee to fix the prices as low as possible and yet not show a loss for the year, and the extent to which they can reduce the cost of meals is gauged by the number of students eating there. Every one who patronizes the Union helps both himself and the remainder of the students to economize on their living expenses and, when this is realized by the student body and the increase in the number of patrons is noted, the committee will do what is possible to still further cut down prices.

RUGBY TICKETS ARE GOING FAST

Seats for Saturday's Game Selling at Union.

Tickets for the rugby game between Queens and McGill which will be played here next Saturday are now on sale at the Union as well as downtown. This game promises to be a regular contest. Queens having the strongest and best line up that they have put on the gridiron for many years.

Shag and his rugby players are working hard and heavy to get into finest shape for this struggle and one fine game is expected. The tickets for the game have just been put on sale and many of the best seats are not taken. The prices are moderate, reserved seats selling for $1.50 and as a word to the wise is sufficient, it is hoped that the undergrads will take advantage of the opportunity of getting their seats early and in that way be sure of seeing the contest.

CHESS CLUB EXPECTS LARGE MEMBERSHIP

Last night a very successful meeting of the McGill Chess Club was held in the Union Ball room, with an attendance of 19 members. Although no official contests took place at least six of the old members who were present proved that they had lost none of the skill they displayed last year. The officers elected for the coming year are:—Pres., K. Hunter; Sec., F. McPherson, both of Arts '24; Vice-Pres., P. Cartwright. Also a special committee of two, who intend arranging a brilliant programme. The next meeting of the club will be held in the Union next Monday evening, when all those who intend to join are requested to be present, in order to arrange the preliminary tournaments. If arrangements can be made a team of six men will enter the city league to play against the Westmount and Verdun teams. It is also expected to hold some exhibitions, in which at least two experts will participate.

them, attempted and blundered. Down into depths of despair, went 1500 — of the flower of the University.

Occasionally a face was raised, glowing with an inward flame of surprise and pleasure as an answer to some question blossomed forth from a forgotten crevice in a freshman cerebrum. But the "Waterloo" of each and every one, straight through the roll-call, with everyone answering "here," was "if K is thicker than S, what is N to T?" Upon receiving this question—groans, gasps—and 1500 freshmen bit the dust!

It was with solemn tread and hushed voices that the crowds filed out of the gymnasiums weak, wilted and worn, and 1500 considerably wiser men and maids will wake the morrow morn.

RAMSAY WITH DOUGLAS WON THE DOUBLES

Defeated Brown and McDougall in Clever Match.

LOST FIRST SET.

Both Pairs in Game Were McGill en.

Ramsay of last year's intercollegiate team and Douglas, junior champion of Quebec defeated Brown and McDougall 3-6, 6-1, 6-2, 6-4 yesterday afternoon for the intercollegiate doubles championship. In tennis, again this year, McGill has come out far in front and great credit is due to these men who have made it possible.

Those who saw the match were treated to some exceptionally fine tennis. Throughout the four sets, interest was kept up and the result was never certain till the very end.

At the beginning, the play was not quite as steady as it was in the later sets. Double faults were not uncommon and the placing was not as accurate as in the latter stages.

The first set went to Brown and McDougall 6-3, Brown's services while fast were not well placed but with McDougall's help and aided by errors on the part of his opponents, they won the set. In this set, Ramsay was not playing his usual brilliant form and his returns were not up to the average. Ramsay and Douglas rallied towards the end of the set out they were unable to overcome the lead.

In the second set Ramsay was playing up to form and Douglas was returning base line volleys with an ease which was a delight to watch. In this set they "came back" and won easily 6-1. They kept up their play and the third set fell to them 6-2. The last set was marked by persistence and cleverness on both sides. Brown and McDougall by some fine tennis obtained the lead but were unable to hold it. Ramsay and Douglas winning 6-4.

Ramsay except in the first set, gave a display of tennis which was clever and tricky. His placing was excellent and he varied his pace well.

Douglas volleyed well and had a well placed service. His return of overhead lobs were played with ease.

Brown served with a fast pace, but at first his services were not well placed. He had the advantage of reach and his drives were good.

McDougall played a steady uniform game throughout although at time he was unable to get high. His angular volleys rarely failed to score.

—By a recent ruling of the faculty at New York University the Sophomores will be allowed to haze the Freshmen for a period of one month to enforce the rules. After one month further infringements are to be reported to the faculty.

In winning the tennis tournament these men have brought to McGill the first championship of the year, which argues well for the future.

FINANCIAL REPORT OF STUDENTS SOCIETY

August 10th, 1921.

The Present and Members,
Students' Council of McGill University,
Montreal.

Dear Sirs:—

We beg to report that we have audited your accounts for the year ended 30th June, 1921, and attach herewith Balance Sheet as at that date, together with relative supplementary statement.

The net result for the year is an excess Expenditure of $2,033.80 as compared with a profit of $703.77 for the previous year. This would have been much worse had it not been for the profit on the Union, which this year amounted to $3,605.72. We would draw attention to the amount spent on travelling expenses by the various clubs, and also to the Financial Statement of the "Daily," as contrasted with the previous year.

We have seen satisfactory vouchers for the disbursements, and have verified the investment in War Loan, and also the Cash on Hand and in Bank.

All our requirements as Auditors have been complied with, and we found the accounts in excellent order.

Yours very truly,
McDONALD, CURRIE & CO.,
Auditors.

BALANCE SHEET AS AT 30TH JUNE, 1921.

THE PRINCESS.

Princess vaudeville this week is of the usual order, and well worth a visit from those that enjoy a good show.

There are eight acts, the majority of which may be classed as real head-liners. Perhaps the outstanding number of the programme is that in which the Watson sisters present

"Horsepitality"—an act well-named.

The larger of the two sisters, weighing well over 250 pounds, bearing her weight fairly gracefully.

An equally good number is a roller-skating act, which is an exhibition of unusual skill.

On the whole the show is a first-rate presentation, and is in every respect vaudeville of the first class.

NOTICES

An important meeting of presidents of all classes is called for at the Union at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

ARTS '23.

Important Class meeting at 11.50 in Room 7, to-day, Tuesday, Oct. 18.

LOST.

At the game on Saturday at the rooters' stand, a blue and green plaid rug. Will the finder please return to Porter's Office, R.V.C. Owner, K. Dawson, R.V.C. '24.

INDOOR BASEBALL—NEW LEAGUE UNDER WAY.

At the meeting of the Indoor Baseball Club held last evening the following classes signified their intention of joining up:

Arts '22, Arts '25, Med. '24, Med. '25, Law '22, Law '23, Comm. '22, Comm. '23.

On account of the fact that other classes, mainly in the first two years, also desire to join, but who have not yet elected their representatives, it has been decided to hold the list open until Wednesday, when there will be another general meeting at 5 o'clock in the Union.

Get busy, boys, and enter your classes now, as on account of playing the games outdoors it is necessary to get started at once.

HARRIER EXECUTIVE.

There will be an executive meeting of the Harrier Club in the Union to-day at 1 p.m. sharp. The following are asked to be present:

Stephens, J. C. Simpson, E. C. Creelman, J. B. Ross, H. O'Hagan, N. Egerton, J. C. Antliff.

STUDENTS' SOCIETY.

The Annual Meeting of the Students' Society is scheduled for Wednesday, October 19, at 5 p.m. Among the other items that are due for discussion there is that of election of Faculty Representatives to the executives of the Major Sports. Notice was posted in the evening, that an amendment be made whereby faculty representatives in future be elected by the various faculties themselves, and not at the Society Meeting. The reason advanced in support of the motion for amendment is primarily that by the time the meeting of the Athletic Clubs are held, after the Students' Society meeting is adjourned, the few undergrads who remain are far from representative and are in the main disinterested parties as far as concerns the election of the various faculty representatives.

All faculty chairmen and class collectors for the forthcoming financial campaign of the Students' Christian Association are requested to meet in Room B of Strathcona Hall at six o'clock to-night for supper. Lists will be made up and distributed and final campaign arrangements made for an early and enthusiastic start.

BOXERS.

All boxers to meet at Molson Hall on Tuesday, at 5.15. New men are especially asked to turn out. Medical examination required for all years before participation.

WRESTLING.

The first practice of wrestlers will be held at the Union at 5 p.m. Wednesday. Medical examination required for all years before participation.

SCIENCE.

WESTERN CLUB.

Men of Western Provinces, watch for coming announcements re Western Club.

FACULTY REPRESENTATIVES TO STUDENTS' COUNCIL.

Nominations for faculty representatives to the Students Council, signed by at least ten active students of the respective faculties, will be received at the Secretary's Office. These nominees must be selected from the Junior Year of the various faculties.

MCGILL UNION HOUSE COMMITTEE.

Nominations for faculty representatives on the McGill Union House Committee signed by ten active members of the respective faculties will be received at the Secretary's Office until 6 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 25. The election of these representatives will be held in the various faculties on Thursday, Oct. 27.

GLEE CLUB MEETING

The re-organization meeting of the Glee Club, which was announced for Wednesday, at 5 p.m., has been changed to next Friday, Oct. 21, at the same hour, on account of the Students' Society meeting.

R. V. C. ATTENTION.

ARTS LAW IN INITIAL PRACTISE

Practically New Line-up for Last Year's Champions. obligations

Awaking from a period of lethargy, Arts and Law had a splendid turnout yesterday afternoon, to what was really the first practice of the season, the others having fallen through for some reason or other. A system of signals was devised and these worked out many times in order to familiarize the men with them as much as possible.

The team is unfortunate in the fact that practically all of last year's outfit which won the championship, are not back, or are ineligible to play, which means that all new men, some of them new to the game itself, will have to defend the honor of the two faculties. However some very promising material was in evidence yesterday, and with what will undoubtedly turn out at the next couple of practices, a good team should result.

S. D. Pierce, of Arts, was elected captain; Lidstone is Law representative, and vice-captain. G. Webster is manager and C. H. Fraser assistant.

The next practice is scheduled for to-day at 1.30 sharp, on the old campus.

The following are particularly requested to turn out, while any others will be very welcome:—

QUEENS GAME SHOULD PROVE INTERESTING

Some New Material on McGill Line-up.

QUEENS STRONG.

The Sale of Seats is Rapidly Increasing.

The McGill-Queens game is rapidly becoming the main subject of discussion as last Saturday's contest fades into the background. The reports concerning the Presbyterians have been to the effect that they are the team to beat if McGill wishes to win the championship and a bitter contest is expected this weekend.

The defeat of Varsity two weeks ago at the hands of the Limestone City team gave a surprise to all of the followers of the game but the downfall of the Parkdale twelve before the last moving Queens aggregation has put them up in the list of leading teams in Canada.

The McGill men who have seen their opponents of next Saturday in action feel that they can take the measure of the visitors but they realize that a hard struggle is ahead if the honors are to come to the home team. The injection of a third team of high calibre into the intercollegiate contest has added the zest to the race that was necessary to make college football outline all of the other leagues in popularity.

Already the demand for the pasteboards for the game is increasing to such an extent that it is predicted that another record crowd shown in the first intercollegiate game here has given the sporting public a taste of what may be expected during the remainder of the season and they are all hurrying in an attempt to secure the choice seats.

Whether the combination of Laidly and Harding on the Queens backline will be enough to beat McGill is the big question in the minds of most of the rugby fans. It was generally conceded that the Queens line was the weak part of their team until the game last Saturday when they went through and beat their opponents at line plays.

McGill will be a much better team than that which took the field against Toronto. Shaughnessy has seen the weaknesses in his line and has already started to correct them. It is very likely that some new blood will be injected into the team in the persons of a few of the players who have been acting as substitutes. There are several promising young players who have been held out of the game so far and it is probable that they will be given their first chance to appear before the public on Saturday.

It was found that Doug McGregor was suffering from appendicitis when he was taken to the hospital yesterday and it was feared that he would be out of the game. However, the reports late last night were to the effect that it would not be necessary to operate and he may be seen in his regular place for the next game.

Yesterday the seniors rested up, and Shaughnessy devoted his time to the second string men in an effort to discover just which players could be relied upon if they were moved up to the senior squad. Several of the youngsters displayed good form and a few were told to report to the training table last night.

It is hoped that all of the regulars will be able to take part in the game on Saturday and, if McGill does not have any more injuries to players this week, the chances for a win on Saturday should be very bright.

"Is this a fast train?" the salesman asked the conductor.

"Of course it is," was the reply.

"I thought it was. Would you mind my getting out to see what it is fast to?"

The dog stood on the burning deck. The flames were leaping around his neck.

Hot dog!!

Bolton (On Bowman porch): "You look cold. Shall I take off my coat and put it around you?"

Verdant One: "Oh no! Don't take it off."

day at 1.30 sharp, on the old campus.

The following are particularly requested to turn out, while any others will be very welcome:—

D. Anderson, L. Anderson, S. D. Pierce, Lidstone, W. Gardner, Usher, Chave, Ogilvy, Epstein, Elliot, Davis, Read, Stone, Egerton, Kornberg, Allan, Cousens, Kruger, Blundell, Fraser, Rudenko, Henderson, McDiarmid.

CORRESPONDENCE

The Daily is not responsible for the sentiments of letters published in the correspondence columns. Signed communication from graduates, undergraduates and members of the faculties will be placed in print if they are not of too great length.

Correspondents are requested to observe the unwritten law of the newspaper office — that they write upon ONE SIDE of the paper ONLY.

No communication will be admitted in this column without the name of the writer being attached, not necessarily for PUBLICATION.

THANKS TO VOLUNTEERS.

17th October, 1921.

J. L. O'Brien, Esq.,

Editor in Chief,

"McGill Daily,"

Montreal.

Dear Sir,—One of the most pleasant privileges, with which good fortune has favoured me (to be permitted through the effective columns of the "McGill Daily" to express as Chairman of Registration for the Re-union the heartiest thanks and appreciation of the good work done by the volunteers from the undergraduate body in connection with registration and service. The spirit with which the work was undertaken and carried out, its courtesy, efficiency and general thoroughness was not only a pleasure to those registering, but it was an inspiration to all who were carrying any of the responsibilities of the Re-union and called forth universally favorable comment. To those of you who volunteered and served, the whole university owes a debt of gratitude, not only for the work you so willingly did, but for the happy keynote which was in evidence throughout your various activities.

At the meeting of the Reunion Committee to be held on Tuesday evening, the agenda contains an item of expressing the appreciation of the committee to the volunteer workers, after which it is hoped to publish a full list of all who served and tender thanks in a more personal way.

In the meantime let me emphasize the fact that through the hearty manner in which you contributed to the success of the Reunion you have glorified the spirit of Old McGill and have done much to create a more loyal atmosphere on the part of the graduates, which after all was the real object of the Reunion, and it is certain that as long as there exists such an unselfish spirit of devotion as you have displayed, we can without hesitation ask "WHAT IS THE MATTER WITH OLD MCGILL," and answer with confidence "SHE'S ALL RIGHT."

Yours sincerely,
FRASER S. KEIH,
Chairman of Registration.

"Prof. Paul West, of the University of Wisconsin, doesn't believe college students know much," says a recent newspaper article. Certainly, the professor ought to know. He was a college student once.
